EASIER trails generally have flat terrain with mild grades and gentle turns. They are the best choice for beginner skiers and snowshoers or those who want an easy outing. Beginners should be aware that easier trails often intersect with trails of greater difficulty and should refer to their maps.

MORE DIFFICULT trails tend to have rolling terrain combined with challenging grades and turns. These trails are often adjacent to steep cliffs and entail an element of risk for the skier and snowshoer. Those trails may lead to remote areas.

MOST DIFFICULT trails tend to have rolling terrain combined with steep grades and sharp turns. Trails are often on the edge of cliffs and deep chasms. There is danger associated with these trails, with risk of serious injury. They should be attempted only by the agile and experienced skier and snowshoer in good health and with appropriate equipment and clothing. These trails often lead to remote areas.

These symbols indicate the relative degree of difficulty of a particular trail COMPARED WITH ALL OTHER TRAILS at Mohonk. If you are unfamiliar with this ski area, you should transition through the levels of difficulty beginning with trails marked "easier."
